

Torishima Service Solutions Europe Ltd. Acquire KRG Specialist Engineering Services

Torishima Service Solutions Europe Ltd (TSSE) are pleased to announce the acquisition of KRG Specialist Engineering Services (KRG) located in Coatbridge, Scotland.

KRG is a high quality precision engineering company which will provide TSSE and its parent company Torishima Pump Mfg. Co., Ltd. of Japan additional machining capabilities and engineering resources. Both TSSE and KRG have complementary engineering expertise and therefore jointly they can provide their customer base with a fuller range of services.

KRG was founded in 1978 as a family owned business and has grown significantly, providing specialised sub-contract machining for a number of industries including Oil & Gas, Defence, Power Generation and General Industry. It has a strong reputation for high quality machining and providing their customers with a reliable service.

"We are excited with the opportunity to acquire such a highly regarded business as KRG Specialist Engineering Services. Their focus on providing the best machining technology as well as our shared company values is highly attractive to us and our regional strategy. We are sure that this partnership will be a success", says Steven McColl, Managing Director of TSSE

"We are delighted to join the Torishima Group of companies. As part of a global company we can expect to see an increase in the opportunities for the KRG business", says Gerry Hughes Managing Director of KRG.

Torishima Service Solutions Europe Ltd (TSSE) is a wholly owned subsidiary of Torishima Pump Mfg. Co., Ltd. - a leading global supplier of engineered pumps to a wide range of markets including power generation, desalination, Water & Industrial. Torishima Pump Mfg. Co., Ltd. is based in Osaka, Japan, and has a global network of Sales, Service & Manufacturing facilities providing pumping equipment and service solutions to its global customer base.
