1. Qualitative information for the first quarter of the FY2019

(1) Qualitative information on consolidated results of operations

During the first quarter of the FY2019, in the US, consumer spending, production, and exports continued steady. In Europe, although there were downside risks such as Brexit and immigration issues, personal consumption remained relatively strong and supported the economy. On the other hand, China, which has led the global economy so far, saw a slowdown in economic expansion because of a decrease in new capital investment caused by a sense of overcapacity accompanying the rapid expansion of investment and intensified trade friction with the US. Even in the US, which performed steadily, corporate profits may deteriorate due to sluggish exports caused by trade friction with China, and consumer sentiment may decline. As a result, the world economy remained firm overall but the outlook remained uncertain with downside risks.

In Japan, the economy overall showed a moderate recovery trend supported by domestic demand based on continued relatively favorable employment environment. However, a downturn risk remained as corporate profits stood on foot due to a decline in external demand caused by a decrease in exports to China and ASEAN accompanying the slowdown of the Chinese economy and the impact of trade friction between the US and China.

Under such circumstances, in the pump industry, the demands continued steady amidst infrastructure projects, particularly for water resources to meet the needs of a growing world population, renewal of aging facilities, and counter-measures against torrential rain caused by abnormal weather. However, competition for orders is expected to remain severe as price competition among global manufacturers is severe.

Orders received during the first quarter of FY2019 (April 1, 2019-June 30, 2019) decreased by $3,373 million from the same period last year to $12,179 million. Orders received from domestic public sector increased by $534 million from the same period last year to $3,850 million, orders received from domestic private sector increased by $412 million from the same period last year to $2,591 million and orders received from overseas sector decreased by $4,320 million from the same period last year to $2,591 million.

Net sales during the first quarter of FY2019 (April 1, 2019-June 30, 2019) increased by ¥514 million from the same period last year to ¥8,608 million.

Operating loss during the first quarter of FY2019 (April 1, 2019-June 30, 2019) amounted to $278 million (operating loss during the same period last year was $54 million). Ordinary loss amounted to $353 million (ordinary income during the same period last year was $261 million) due to foreign exchange losses of $228 as non-operating expenses. Net loss attributable to owners of parent amounted to $442 million (net income attributable to owners of parent during the same period last year was $202 million).

(2) Qualitative information on consolidated financial position

At the end of the first quarter (June 30, 2019), total assets amounted to $70,892 million, $1,781 million lower than at the end of the previous fiscal year (March 31, 2019). Principal changes in assets items included a decrease in notes and accounts receivable-trade of $7,050 million despite of an increase in cash and deposits of $5,177 million.

Total liabilities at the end of the first quarter amounted to $37,108 million, $618 million lower than at the end of the previous fiscal year. Principal changes in liabilities items included a decline in notes and accounts payable-trade of $1,959 million.

Net assets at the end of the first quarter amounted to ¥33,784 million, ¥1,163 million lower than at the end of the previous fiscal year.

(3) Qualitative information on consolidated earnings forecasts

Forecasts for fiscal year ending March 31, 2020 have not been changed from those announced on May 14, 2019.
